World Day of Prayer for Vocations

"As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a net into the sea; they were fishermen. He said to them, 'Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men.' At once they left their nets and followed him. He walked along from there and saw two other brothers, James and his brother John. They were in a boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets. He called them and immediately they left their boat and their father and followed him." (Matthew 4:21-22)

Dear Friends in Christ:

In these two brief verses from Matthew's gospel we witness the power of Jesus' invitation. We are told that these fishermen left their nets "at once" and "immediately" followed the Lord. Presumably, they left what they knew. They walked away from what was familiar and safe to follow Jesus. Their decision to drop everything and follow Him must have created confusion and perhaps even anger among those closest to these fishermen. It is interesting to note that we never hear from Zebedee. He witnesses firsthand the invitation from this itinerant preacher to his own sons to follow Jesus. Seemingly without much hesitancy they step out of their old lives and embark on this bold adventure. Strangely enough Zebedee doesn't appear to question their radical decision. There is no "where are you going" or "slow down and think this through". There is no "what about your plans for the future" or "get back in the boat and stop this crazy discipleship talk". I suspect the reason he remained silent and expressed no opposition was quite simply because he was there. He encountered the invitation. That is what happens when we meet Jesus. He speaks to the heart and leads us to trust in ways that many consider foolish. Zebedee must have known that Jesus had seized the hearts of his two sons and that for them, there would be no turning back.

The great writer and Christian apologist, G.K. Chesterton, defined an adventure as "something which by its very nature comes to us. It is a thing that chooses us, not a thing we choose". James and John were chosen by Jesus to join Him in the greatest adventure of all - the adventure of discipleship.

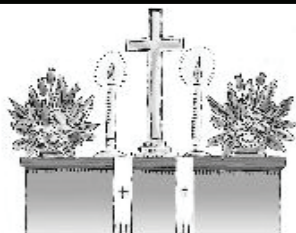

In a particular way, I would ask you to pray for the Zebedees of today. Pray for the parents of young men and women who are being invited by the Lord to "step out of the boat". Pray for those parents who are being asked by their sons and daughters to support their call to priesthood and religious life. Unlike Zebedee today's parents don't have the advantage of having been present when the invitation occurred. In these challenging times both within and beyond the Church, I suspect more trust, generosity and courage are required by parents than ever before. And so I ask you to pray for parents. Pray that the example of Zebedee inspires them to seek above all God's will in the lives of their children.

This year the Church will celebrate World Day of Prayer for Vocations on May 15, 2011. May I ask you to reflect on its theme: Proposing Vocations in the Local Church. In his message the Holy Father reminds us that, "the ability to foster vocations is a hallmark of the vitality of a local Church". I invite you to pray for the future of our local Church here on Long Island. Pray that our young people act with the boldness of James and John. Personally, I have reason to believe they will. This past March I had the opportunity to preside at the monthly Holy Hour for Vocations at our seminary in Huntington. I prayed with over four hundred teenagers before the Blessed Sacrament for an increase in vocations to the priesthood and religious life. The next day I offered a retreat to nineteen men, ranging in age from fifteen to thirty-nine who believe that Jesus might be asking them to step out of the boat and follow Him to the priesthood. They were an impressive group and a reason for hope.

Pray for these men and also for all young people throughout our great Diocese. Pray also for their parents. Pray that they will see what Zebedee saw.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Bishop of Rockville Centre

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Acts 2:14a, 36-41 / 1 Pt 2:20b-25 / Jn 10:1-10

The power of a familiar voice over the phone amazes me. When my four-year-old nephew calls “Hi, Shaw!” (his nickname for me) over the phone, the very timbre of his voice melts my heart. Since my husband and I know each other’s voices, it takes me by surprise—in a good way—when he calls me by name over the phone instead of saying “Hey, you,” or “Hi, sweetie.” Even though I’m an adult, my mother can still tell if I’m sad, angry, or worried just by how I say hello. The sound of a loved one’s voice can be almost as reassuring as the sight of that person next to you.

On this Good Shepherd Sunday, John’s Gospel emphasizes the importance of the shepherd’s voice. In Jesus’ day, multiple flocks often inhabited one sheepfold, so it was key that each sheep become accustomed to its own shepherd’s voice.

In this passage, Jesus is referring to himself as the good shepherd, the one who knows and calls each of us by name. But are we familiar with Jesus’ voice? Is his voice as recognizable as our spouse’s, our child’s, our grandparent’s?

To become more familiar with Jesus’ voice, we must take the necessary time to listen to him. If we’re blessed with regular quiet time during the day to listen to Jesus’ voice in prayer, we should use it well.

But some of us have only snatches of time—brushing our teeth, waiting in the doctor’s office, or taking a shower. All those are timely moments we can use to listen to Jesus, who is always speaking to us in love.
