From the Pastor's Desk

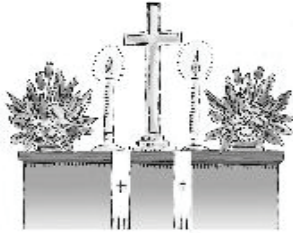

New Roman Missal: The new translation of some of the prayers at Mass will begin at the 5:15 Mass on November 26, 2011. One of the changes that will be noticeable will be in the Nicene Creed. We will pray and profess our faith that Jesus Christ is "the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, CONSUBSTANTIAL with the Father...."

The use of the word "consubstantial" has a long history (involving several different languages) and is a precise, technical word with a very specific meaning. The exact meaning is very simply that Jesus is God. From the time that Jesus began His public ministry up till the present day, some people have resisted accepting that Jesus, and what He said and did, will affect the way they live. Some people will do things that Jesus, and the Church He founded, condemned and forbade. Some people will call themselves Christians and/or Catholics and not live by the words of Jesus but will make themselves the highest authority about what is good and what is evil, what is right and what is wrong.

Other people – people of faith - will believe and profess publicly that Jesus is God. He is one Divine person. He has two natures, a divine nature and a human nature. He has two wills, a divine will and a human will. They will seek to deepen their personal devotion to Jesus Christ and will find growing peace and happiness in their lives. They will find wisdom and joy and meaning in life. They will find fewer worries and greater confidence in trusting completely in the will of God. They will be drawn to learn more about God and while they never expect to learn everything about God, they will be amazed at how much more they seem to understand Him.

For people of faith, the new translation of the prayers of the Mass will be an opportunity and an invitation to pay much attention to what is said in the prayers of the Mass and the meaning behind these words. There will be the realization that God the Holy Spirit is there ready to answer your sincere questions about your faith in Him and the Father and the Son. The Holy Spirit will gently and surely guide your mind and your soul and help you to know that you mean it when you say:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, CONSUBSTANTIAL with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Ex 22:20-26 / 1 Thes 1:5c-10 / Mt 22:34-40

My nephew Alexander is fascinated by things that grow. His recent birthday gifts have included sunflower seeds and a grow-your-own-butterflies kit. Many post-birthday phone conversations have included intensely detailed accounts of cocoon development and how big his sunflower stalks are. Meanwhile, his aunt ponders how he got to be so big – didn't I rock that newborn to sleep just yesterday?

As Alex is discovering, growth is natural for living things, ourselves included. We all know about growing older, growing taller, and growing thicker around the waist. But spiritual growth doesn't always come as naturally. It's something we must work toward more consciously.

Today's familiar Gospel challenges us to this conscious growth. We know we should love God with our whole selves and we know we should love our neighbors as ourselves. Yet, it's one thing to love and it's another thing to grow in love. Is our love for God increasing each day? Is our love for others growing to be more like Jesus' love? Or have we narrowed whom we consider to be our neighbor and worthy of our love?

All God's children are our neighbors. The Exodus reading clearly declares God's expansive love for the poor, foreigners, the oppressed and the dispossessed. Are our hearts large enough to love these people?

My nephew watches his cocoons and sunflowers with great hope, waiting to see growth. Our Father, too, watches and waits – for our hearts to grow large with love.
